

HOW OIL & NATURAL GAS ARE

HELPING FIGHT COVID-19

During this COVID-19 pandemic, California's state and local governments have declared oil and natural gas producers essential to power homes and hospitals and supply food and other daily necessities. Californians may not know that oil and natural gas are also critical to the production of a vast majority of pharmaceuticals, medical equipment and personal protective gear. From latex gloves to hand sanitizer to examination tables, petroleum products are essential items for patients and health care workers. Learn more below.
